Our Values

You will notice 'Christian' in our name. This is partly historic, as our founder was motivated by his Christian faith to offer English tuition to those hoping to serve in development and missionary work in far flung corners of the world.

However, it also points to our values today:

- We aim to treat our students, staff and suppliers with respect, integrity and with a generosity of spirit
- We offer optional opportunities each week to explore the Christian faith
- We are thoroughly committed to the happiness and welfare of all our students, whatever their background or beliefs

"I have enjoyed my stay at Celc very much. I liked it that we had such a family atmosphere."

Christchurch Harbour & beach

Why come to Christchurch?

Christchurch is a wonderful location for enjoying your stay as you study English in the UK. It is an attractive, historic town on the south coast of England, situated between the lively resort of Bournemouth and the beautiful New Forest.

A delightful English town

Christchurch takes its name from the magnificent 11th century priory church in the heart of the town. It is situated between two rivers, the Avon and the Stour, and on the shores of its own natural harbour.

With a population of 45,000 people, Christchurch is large enough to have a life of its own, but small enough to feel friendly, safe and accessible. The town boasts interesting shops, many restaurants and cosy cafes, a well-equipped sports centre, and the art-deco Regent Centre offering a programme of films, plays and concerts.

Beautiful countryside

To the east of Christchurch, and easily reached by car or train, is the New Forest National Park; 150 square miles of woodland and open heath, with deer and ponies wandering freely.

It is easy to explore on foot or by bike, and has many tracks for walking and over 100 miles of specially-marked cycle routes.

Miles of golden beach

Christchurch is also an ideal place for those who love water sports and the beach. In addition to the rivers and harbour, there are four miles of clean, safe beach to the east of the town and seven miles to the west. All this provides plenty of opportunities for sunbathing, swimming, beach volleyball and water sports, or just strolling along the waterfront and enjoying the beautiful views.

Bournemouth for big town buzz

For the energy and liveliness of a big town, the centre of Bournemouth is only a short bus ride away. Bournemouth is one of the most popular holiday resorts in Britain and with lots of shops, miles of beach and plenty of leisure facilities there are always things to see and do.
